2019 Mino-Boston Exchange Program
Handbook

Dear participants:

Welcome and thank you for joining the 2019 Mino-Boston Exchange Program organized by the Cultural Exchange Initiative.

The 2019 Mino-Boston Exchange Program will feature two different learning experiences: intense Japanese offered by our partner, the YAMASA institution, from August 22nd to August 31st; and cultural immersion in the city of Mino from August 31st to September 4th.

In this handbook, you will find our itinerary in detail. Please feel free to review it. Your cooperation and understanding will be much appreciated.

One of the goals of this program is to help you discover your potential by providing you with unique cultural exchange opportunities. For example, sharing your life experiences with Japanese students, improving your Japanese language skills, and joining a local Japanese community.

Therefore, we have also listed some areas at the end of the handbook where the program can assist in your goals. We encourage you to fill in your personal goals and do a self-evaluation at the end of this program. You are also more than welcome to share your summer experience on social media and tagging us.

This year, we received a large number of applications from various channels. Due to limited resources, we faced many difficult choices. We are confident your unique talents and perspective will deeply enrich both the Mino and the American community you will join on this exchange.

Again, thank you for joining this program and we are looking forward to spending a wonderful summer with you this year.

Best regards,
Mikiyo Hattori

About Cultural Exchange Initiative (CEI)

The mission of Cultural Exchange Experience (CEI) is to advance intercultural understanding between people in Japan and the U.S. At CEI, we connect with various talented individuals ranging from middle school students to industry professionals to provide them with unique cultural exchange opportunities, such as sharing your life experiences with Japanese students, improving your Japanese language skills, and joining a local Japanese community.

For more information, please visit <https://www.ceinitiative.org/>.

About YAMASA

The Yamasa Institute is dedicated to excellence in teaching and scholarship. As one of the very few truly international Japanese language program providers, we have a special emphasis on cross-cultural learning and informed respect for diversity.

For more information, please visit <https://www.yamasa.org/>.

About Mino City

The city of Mino has earned a place in history as a center of Japanese paper (washi) production for 1,300 years. Blessed with superior materials for producing washi and the pristine water and water transportation provided by the Nagara River, even today “Mino washi” is known as a representative example of washi within Japan.
